The Old Reliable Jewelry House

of Hopkinsville is, after all, the best place to get anything in the jewelry line. There's a record behind us, a record of over thirty years; a clean record of satisfied customers, a record of honest dealing, for honest quality, honest prices. It's a record any jeweler might feel proud of. And when we sell an article we have in mind that it will receive the maximum and no slight method, no needless workmanship; no lack of quality is ever allowed to mar the record of the past. But to improve, if possible, this record, is ever our aim, and goods are sold for as low a price as it is possible to sell reliable goods.

It will pay you in the end to deal with the Old Reliable jeweler.

CITY FINANCES DISCUSSED.

Council Holds Session Devoted to Routine Work and Settlements.

PAVEMENTS ORDERED.

Property Owners on West 17th Street to Be Forced to Put Down Curbing.

The city council met Friday night in regular session and disposed of a mass of routine business mostly concerning the finances.

The bond of City Tax Collector H. C. Moore was approved for the current term.

Messrs. Frank Rives and Chas. O. Prowse, commissioners appointed to make settlement for the city with the administrator of the late Gus Tandy, tax collector, reported that they were not quite ready for a settlement.

Mr. Tandy was collector from 1902 until his death July 23, 1904, and there has never been any quietus given for any year. Only about $700 was collected for 1906 and this book was released some time ago and is in the hands of the new collector. The books for 1905 and 1902 are also ready, but those of 1903 and 1902 have been only partly examined. The delinquent taxes amount to about $12,300 since 1902 and about $2,000 worth of property tax was represented by the tax sale July 16. A delinquent tax collector will be elected to collect about $10,000 yet outstanding. Collector Moore reported $25,000 of property listed for taxes by him that had been located and verified. About $55,000 more was being investigated and would be reported at the next meeting. These additions to the assessor's list will increase the total to more than $30,000.

The bill for $1,023 for new fire hose purchased in February was ordered paid.

Mayor Meacham reported that he had received an invitation for himself and the city council to attend the meeting of the League of American Municipalities at the Auditorium in Chicago Sept. 27.

An ordinance was passed ordering down a brick or concrete pavement on East Ninth street, east of Belmont street.

The city engineer was directed to advertise for bids for putting down stone curbing on West Seventeenth street wherever the ordinance last spring has not been complied with by Aug. 25th.

The reports of City Engineer McClaud, for June and July, passed over at the last meeting were received and ordered filed.

WORSE THAN 'FRISCO'S.

Valparaiso, Chili, Gets 82 Shocks and Many Towns Destroyed.

2,000 LIVES ARE LOST.

Whole Western Coast of South America Gets a Shaking Up.

Valparaiso, Chili, Aug. 20.—At 7:52 o'clock last Thursday evening Valparaiso experienced an earthquake of great severity and during that night eighty-two shocks were felt. Most of the buildings of the city were ruined or damaged. The loss will be enormous, probably reaching $250,000,000.

Two thousand persons killed is considered to be a fair estimate of the casualties.

Vina del Mar, three miles from Valparaiso, and having a population of over 10,000; Quillota, 225 to the Southward, with a population of 2,500; Quillota Limache, fifteen miles to the Northwest, with a population of 6,500; Quillota, twenty-five miles to the Northwest, with a population of 10,000, and villages all around were destroyed.

Most of the damage was due to fire which started immediately after the first shock.

The whole population is sleeping in the hills, the parks or the streets.

At Santiago many of the best public and private buildings were wrecked. The loss of life there was augmented by the panic which seized the people, many of whom threw themselves from the balconies of their homes.

The railroads are destroyed.

Rain, which began to fall immediately after the first shock, stopped an hour afterward.

The nights are very cold and windy and the people sleeping in the open are suffering greatly.

The captain of a steamship which has arrived from San Francisco, says that the situation here is worse than that following the disaster at San Francisco.

DIED SATURDAY.

J. Rogers Barr Passes Away at Lexington.

The funeral at Louisville was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Wood and Mr. A. W. Wood, of this city.

The reports of City Engineer McClaud, for June and July, passed over at the last meeting were received and ordered filed.

Hopkinsville, Ky., April 30th, 1906.

Mr. Walter F. Garnett, Agent,
New York Life Insurance Co.

Dear Sir:—

It gives me pleasure to acknowledge receipt of statement of optional settlement on 20-Payment Life Policy, No. 223,593, for $1,500.00, issued at age 35, with premium of $52.50, taken out with you Apr. 29, '86. After having been insured for 20 years, I am offered a paid up policy for $1,500 and a cash dividend of $406.88, or the total value may be withdrawn in cash—$1,811.88, which will be paid in the 20 years) or a fully paid up policy payable on my death for $2,125.88.

The cash settlement of $1,215.88 is equal to Term Insurance at $12.87 per $1,000 and an investment of the balance of premiums with 5% per cent, compound interest for twenty years. This showing is certainly a good one for the New York Life, and I will be pleased to give you my application for $1,000 on the Ordinary Life plan.

Yours very truly, C. E. WEST.

FALL FESTIVAL

At Cincinnati This Year Will Be Greatest Ever.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 17.—In two more weeks, this city's fifty and greatest Fall Festival will throw open its gates to the public. Two hundred and fifty strong, "The Blue Horn" forces arrived early in the week to continue rehearsals in Music Hall, the biggest theatre in the west. The "Fighting the Flames" exhibition is practically complete at a cost of about $20,000; hundreds of exhibits are being installed and the Park shows, bigger than the St. Louis Fair, will soon be ready for public inspection.

The festival will open by the time the gates are opened on Aug. 28th, more than a half-million dollars. The business houses are already beginning to decorate. Big cash prizes have been offered by the festival directors for the best decorated buildings and the entire city is undergoing a complete "house cleaning," anticipating the coming of a half-million guests. Flags, banners and pennants will be flying, bands playing, and the entire city will be in gala attire to greet the first visitors at the fair.

"Make Hay While the Su Shines."

There is a lesson in the work of the thrifty farmer. He knows that the bright sunshine may last but a day and he prepares for the showers which are so liable to follow. So it should be with every household. Dysentery, diarrhea and cholera morbus may attack some member of the home without warning. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which is the best known medicine for these diseases, should always be kept at hand, as immediate treatment is necessary and delay may prove fatal. For sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, the up-to-date drugists at Hopkinsville.

Another Freak.

Mr. D. Boales went up to his farm in Todd county Wednesday and brought back a sample of freak corn which is growing in one of his fields. The main shuck is fully two feet long, but there are three other ears growing out on the main one. All four of them are in fresh silk. Had the ear been allowed to grow it is probable that the four ears would have made full ones. Mr. Boales pulled the corn from a row growing on the outer edge of the field and says there are plenty of other stalks producing ears of the same formation. Mr. Boales says it is nothing but "common old horse corn."

In Great Demand.

The demand for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been so great that it has scarcely been able to keep in stock. It has cured cases of dysentery here when all other remedies failed—Frank Jones, Pikeville, Ind.—This remedy is for sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, the up-to-date druggists of Hopkinsville.

Winter in June.

The Australian Hen for June says: "Winter has suddenly spread its mantle over this quarter, and after warm, dry weather we are suddenly smitten with biting winds, driving rain and chilling fogs. To the breeder prepared for the change of season it is not so bad, but for him who puts off and puts off it means trouble. It is time preparations were made for the reception of the chicks and the breeding stock carefully overhauled and put up for the season and time that the beginners contemplating 'a few fowls' should decide what they require and where they will obtain the birds, and then lose no time in getting them."

False Alarm.

The fire department had a useless run out North Main street at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. The alarm went in turn by some negro, one of the firemen says, on first between Main and Virginia. He says there were five or six negroes in one of the rooms of a double house and one of them called out the department without any cause whatever. It was impossible to find out the one that did it. There was a heavy penalty for this kind of amusement.

a large crop and it is growing finely at this time.

We have had rain every night since

account, is at a standstill at present.

Tobacco worms are reported as being

He will be several days.

Mr. Nevil Nixon has moved back

"A Soap Bubble."

"A Soap Bubble" brings to the mind the days when all was as light and airy as the name of the comedy implies. And it is a fact; during the action of the farcical scenes, you are kept busy laughing at the very pranks you played—or would have played had you thought of them—when you were a boy or girl.

"A Soap Bubble" has made the sounds of laughter it has provoked,
ring around three continents—America,
Europe and Australia—and now it comes home to us in a new dress close as far ahead of the times as when it first began its tour around the world on its mission of mirth.

New scenes have been introduced all special and up-to-date music has been liberally interspersed throughout the play and the merry melange is sure to make an impression for good, as of old.

The "Soap Bubble" plays one performance at the Holland on Tuesday evening, August 21.

ORDINANCE*Against Use of No. 5 to Be Enforced.

It is getting to be quite common for people to turn on No. 5 of the Home telephone service when the fire department has been called to a fire. By doing this all the wires are open and anyone can hear what is going on. People do this to find out where the fire may be, and it is a violation of an ordinance and the penalty is quite heavy. Hereafter those who cannot restrain their curiosity will be punished. Never touch No.
5 without you want to notify the department where to go to fight a fire.

Ero. Ford is conducting a series of services at Ford's Chapel at Dogwood. He began last Sunday.
We have had rain every night since he began and the meeting, on that account, is at a standstill at present.

Tobacco worms are reported as being very plentiful.

Mrs. Gus Robinson and daughter, of Fruit Hill, attended church at Ford's Chapel last Sunday. Mr.
Robinson has regained his health and has made up his mind to go to Hopkins county to visit relatives.
He will be several days.

Mr. Nevil Nixon has moved back to his old home from Hopkins county.
He has what is thought to be typhoid fever. His two oldest sons are also sick, confined to their beds with swell fever.

Thousands Have Kidney Troub and Never Suspect it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; if the water has turned brownish-yellow indicating unhealthy condition of the kidney. If there is no color in your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too much water will pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is great kidney remedy. It relieves every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It cures all kinds of trouble with a strong laxative in passing it, and had effect in getting use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go to bed during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is so great. It stands the highest for its wonderful curative power in treating cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You can have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer, 100 Main Street, Binghamton, N. Y., or "House of Swamp-Root," writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

White Horse

By HARRY IRVING GREENE

(Copyright, by Joseph B. Bowles.)

The construction department of the Superior & Western railroad had decided to sink a spur deep into the body of the woods and connect Archer with Turtle Junction. Dunham, the gray old timber for that had charge of that bureau, sent the representatives of the Badger lumber company to see Findlay & Brother, Cardiff and Findlay, the representatives, came the next morning to Dunham's office.

"Now, boys," he said as the rivals gathered at each other through the smoke fog, "seeing that we are all sons together we might as well drop sentiments and have a friendly talk. The S. & W. wants those ties at bedrock price, and it wants them as soon as man can deliver them. What are your figures, Cardiff?"

"Thirty thousand dollars," said Cardiff, as he thieved a quick glance at his rival from across the Manitoba.

"And yours, John?"

"Twenty-five thousand."

"Then I'll call it twenty-five thousand, too," responded Cardiff promptly.

Externally Dunham remained cool, but internally he was aglow with a warm, glad smile.

"I guess the price is near enough right now, so we can only get together on the question of delivery. Of course, it is understood that time is the essence of this contract. When can you deliver those ties in our yards at Archer, Mr. Cardiff?"

The black brows of the dragon were drawn as he was led deep into the silent woods. "Between April 1st and 10th, depending on how soon the break-up comes," Findlay sat looking at them in grim silence, and Dunham, after giving him plenty of time in which to make a bid, husked a dry cough from his voice and went on thoughtfully:

"Pretty tight, but I don't suppose I can ask you to deliver them at shipshape at those figures. Our minds have met as to the price, and, of course, which one of you gets the contract makes no difference to me. But inasmuch as Mr. Cardiff first spoke and Mr. Findlay did not better the bid I suppose I might as well go along with him."

"Hold on," broke in Findlay as he jaw suddenly thrust itself at "If I give you a $50,000 bond that I will deliver those ties at Archer, March 1st, 1907, before Mr. Cardiff's date, do I get that contract?"

Dunham glanced at Cardiff, and Cardiff stared stupidly at his rival, said nothing at all. So, present, he said, "I suppose yes," and at that word Findlay arose.

So, with that the incident ended, and John Findlay strode away, as many other victor has done, his heart thumping triumphantly and his brain sick with fear.

Long and bitter had been the fight that day, and his half-injested brother Joe had waged in those cold north woods, and to lose out now spelled ruin just as their star of hope was rising brightly above the horizon.

"Of course, there is only one way to carry out that contract, Joe," said John, "and that is to build an ice road from Camp 3 to Archer. When I fixed the date of the delivery I thought I could figure out a route through this swamp and ridge country, but it seems that we can't make good. And there is only one man I know who can and he is James Livingston Flint, 'White Horse,' we used to call him—and, of course, as our father would have it, he grew up in Alaska country somewhere. But I'm going after him. I'll be back before the first of December and I'll bring him with me, alive if possible, but anyway I'll bring him. I'd rather have Flint dead than any other man in the pines alive."

So the night John Findlay packed his grip and departed for the white land it was way out South that Findlay found his man.

White Horse built the road in a little less than three weeks, but he only slept on an average of four hours a night while he did it. As for the men who worked under him during that frenzied period, he had them work without intermission while the work was going on, and are still bragging about having had hand and foot to it.

Of course it seems incredible, but it is astonishing how much 70 hard-driven men and 20 good teams can do in three weeks when they work 18 hours a day. The road was finished the 24th of December, and it was a good thing to look at.

Christmas morning came clear and bitterly cold. Heavy frost crunches the brittle snow without the cook shop of Camp 3, and at the first sound White Horse thrust a heavy, automatic pistol into his belt, then leaned forward against the logs and his hands buried deeply in his pocket.

The next instant the door was burst open and in lurched a body of woodsmen who, crowding into the corners of the cabin, left the center of the floor empty, while Lebeau, who led them, stepped forward and spoke:

"Bob, I'm mighty glad to see you, Cat. Like a dog you've run us in here to make us come to you. Like a long time ago you drive us and swing your can-hawk when moon shines. Come, you, every man, follow along with me, Joe Lebeau, and I will show you joy. We will drink, we will dance, we will make ridicule. Come with Joe Lebeau."

"Bob, I'm mighty glad to see you, Cat. Like a dog you've run us in here to make us come to you. Like a long time ago you drive us and swing your can-hawk when moon shines. Come, you, every man, follow along with me, Joe Lebeau, and I will show you joy. We will drink, we will dance, we will make ridicule. Come with Joe Lebeau."

Out into the open air he swaggered, his hand behind him, and White Horse heard them go roaring down the ice road with nearly the whole camp on train. And as the last yell died away the forehead of the walking boss wrinkled like a pool into which a pebble has dropped and tensely held bound his lips closed together. For he had once fairly started on a big drunk his crew would scatter from the Zoo to St. George bay, and every day's time was priceless to him now with the driving wind that lay before him. The crisis had come, and White Horse, arising, walked to the window and stood moodily in the log saloon six miles down the road the noise of the revelry arose in ever increasing volume.

The door of the shack suddenly opened and the tall form of White Horse towered before them. Calmly, with each word forced as a bullet, White Horse spoke:

"This thing is going to stop. I've got you in the woods to-morrow and you must get back to camp while you are able to walk. I've been a patient man to-day, but I've reached my limit. Now clean out of here before I clean you out."

Sullenly they turned upon him, shitting on their feet and glancing at each other uneasily. And, seeing their doggedness, an ominous glitter shone out of the eyes of the black slave.

"Get out!" he said as the rivals gathered at each other through the smoke fog, "seeing that we are all sons together we might as well drop sentiments and have a friendly talk. The S. & W. wants those ties at bedrock price, and it wants them as soon as man can deliver them. What are your figures, Cardiff?"

KENTUCKY'S FAIR
A BIG SUCCESS

Exhibition to Be Held Next Week at Louisville.

Opens September 17 and Closes Night of September 22.

TROTTING AND RUNNING RACES EVERY DAY

Premises and Purse Amount to More Than $25,000—Band Concerts and Scores of Other Attractions. Visitors Will Be Well Entertained.

Everything is in readiness for the State Fair, which will begin next Monday at Louisville. The grounds having been beautified and put in perfect shape, the exhibits are being received and assigned to their proper quarters, and hundreds of little details are being attended to and preparations practically completed, and will undoubtedly prove the greatest Fair ever held in the state of Kentucky. In many respects the Fair will be a surprise to those who attend, as it will give unmistakable evidence of the progress and advancement made by Kentucky in the past few years, and will show to the world the extent and value of her products, the pre-eminence of her horseflesh and magnificence of her other live stock. Splendid specimens of tobacco from her fields and grain from her farms will be displayed in abundance. Complete evidence of the industry and thrift of her housewives will be shown.

The State Fair deserves and will doubtless receive the hearty and unanimous support of every loyal son of the Commonwealth. It is the state's contribution to the citizens of Bell and Calloway counties as well as to the residents of Jefferson. It is the fair of the Mountains, the Blue Grass, the Pennyrile and Purchase. It is a place where Kentuckians meet to exchange news and ideas, and in the spirit of brotherhood. The State Fair must be made to rank with those of Chamberlain's sister states, which have been longer established. Kentucky's resources are great, and her agricultural and stock breeding interests of other states.

Managed by State Board.

The State Fair affords an opportunity to the men who are developing Kentucky's mineral resources to advertise the untold wealth that lies in her mountains. The State Fair will be held under the management of the State Board of Agriculture, appointed by the State Board of Agriculture. The State Fair must be made to rank with those of Chamberlain's sister states, which have been longer established. Kentucky's resources are great, and her agricultural and stock breeding interests of other states.

Are you making as much off your farm as you ought? No doubt you are making all you can. The farm is the land cost too much.

It takes too much money to buy a big farm, and so many are trying to make a living on a small farm, or perhaps you are renting one and paying a good share of what you raise, in rent. Wouldn't it be better to go where the price of good land is so little that you can own a big farm—where every acre of the ground is working for you and all you are paying is good profits?

There are thousands of acres of fertile land in the Southwest along the line of the Cotton Belt Route that can be bought for from $3 to $10 an acre. This land is increasing in value each year.

See the Southwest at Small Cost.

A trip to the Southwest would cost you less than your best hotel bill in getting there.

The trip can be made at very little expense. On the first and third Tuesdays of each month you can purchase a round trip ticket to any point in the Southwest, and on the 1st and 3rd Tuesdays of each month you can travel over the 150 miles between the cities of the Southwest this year.

The State College of Kentucky,

LEXINGTON, KY.

The Agricultural and Mechanical (State College) of Kentucky offers the following courses of study, viz: Agricultural, Horticultural, Chemical, Biological, Mathematical, Physical, Normal School, Classical, Mechanical Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Civil Engineering, and Mining Engineering, each of which extends over four years and leads to a degree. Post graduate studies are also provided, leading to a master's degree. Each course of study is organized under a separate faculty. The general faculty number nearly fifty professors and instructors.

County appointees receive free tuition, room rent in the dormitories, meal and light, and if they remain ten months, traveling expenses.

The laboratories and museums are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern.

Graduates from the several courses of study readily find excellent positions and liberal remuneration. The demand is largely in excess of the ability of the College to supply. The matriculation for the last year was, including Summer school, 815.

Specialists with the necessary number of assistants have charge of each department of natural science. Summer schools are provided for pedagogy, engineering, instruction in science and arts.

The State College of Kentucky, through bearing hitherto the title of "college," is the only institution in the Commonwealth doing, in any proper sense, university work.

The completion of the College home for young women provides facilities for good board and room. It is equipped with all modern conveniences, including bath rooms and room for physical culture. It is heated by steam and lighted by electricity.

An opportunity is thus afforded to young women of obtaining a thorough education in classics, modern language, literature, science mathematics, logic, metaphysics, history, and political economy.

No other institution in the State offers advantages for education of women at all comparable to those offered by the State College of Kentucky.

The Normal Department will be on a better footing than ever heretofore. Last year's largely increased attendance, with the unprecedented growth of the Summer Normal School, both indicate that an era of prosperity surpassing that of all previous years has opened for the Normal Department of the State College.

OLD SHANKS WRITES AGAIN.

Discusses the Latest Move in Tobacco Circles—Old Clarksville is Tired.

Wants to Quit Fighting the Association and Be Good.

A call has been issued at Clarksville by certain tobacco men for a meeting of growers in that city, Wednesday, Aug. 22.

A published call of the meeting says: "We cordially invite everyone interested in obtaining better prices, harmonizing whatever differences may have existed, bringing about a better and more friendly feeling and inaugurating more thorough and practical business methods in handling and selling."

"While we believe that the organic principles of the Dark Tobacco Growers' association are correct, and we endorse them, still we believe that with the experience we have had, the conditions might be greatly improved."

Keyserburg, Ky., Aug. 14, 1906.
Editor Kentuckian:

Well, well, well, the sore-heads are going to have them a little side show of their own are they? To think of their audacity in attempting to pitch their tent on our ground! Going to merge their little side show into the big circus, and take charge of the performance with their own ring master, eh? I suppose when they get this done, that will let Mr. Ewing purchase a ticket, come in at the main entrance, and occupy a reserved seat, provided he pays the extra price to see the performance. I have no objection to their merging their little side show into our big circus, provided we have our own ring master and our own ring, and prepare the little attractions, and arrange the programme; otherwise let them pitch their little tent on their own ground, arrange and prepare their own list of attractions, and show to the world their wonderful monstrosities.

Listen to the hawker at the door: "Come right up, gentlemen, and see the most wonder snake charmer the world has ever produced (We all know this snake charmer). Now, gentlemen, here is the Leaf-Chronicile, the most agile and accomplished acrobat that has ever been shown on the American continent. See how he jumps from association to the trusts, O, that was a most wonderful leap. Now look, he jumps from our private sales to an open market, and from a friend to Mr. Ewing, to a vulture; but there is one jump that he has not shown the public, and that is, that bundles full of the old paper are sent out to the country post offices, to be given away, and without takers at that. Next, a most wonderful animal, part pig and part dog, good and bad, and regulations, cannot talk well enough to explain the use there would be for an association if there were auction sales. Next, the man tattooed until you can't tell his color; you are so amazed at his appearance that you do not ask his gang what is the real thing up his sleeve, but you know mighty well it is something like than auction sales. The fat boy the trust agent, who has lost connection with the trust shop bucket by means of the association.

The man who eats a glass and swallows a sword; the ho-hum-poo fellow; the spotted ponies, and the ring-tailed monkeys, O, that will be a wonderful aggregation of the world's celebrities, and with the razzle-dazzle of it all, they would have you think, simply by sticking their names in the paper unauthorized, that some of our loyal people would address their deceitful message, may go to see this wonderful display, to be pulled off at Clarksville on the second day. I want to see who has any curiosity about this cut-throat movement. They say to bury the hatchet, and let by-gones be by-gones. "Good God!" said the wood-cook, and "good he flew." Who's got any hatchet but themselves? Who is holding to any by-gones but themselves? We are a joyous family, and extend them only sympathy for their innate selfishness. "We won't play," say they, "unless you fix us so we are bound to win." We have nothing to compromise, we have got our rules and regulations, which are sensible and just, and if these pirates don't want to be governed by them, let them quit making the poor, puny pusillanimous claim of being loyal members. Let us give them a dishonorable discharge, and send them back to the loft, whence all this nonsense was hatched. There is much important news and pleasure to be enjoyed in the sun with the bare and the sounds and another thing is quite certain we are not going to have any of our tobacco put up and sold to the highest bidder, either, notwithstanding they will put up tin-horn fellows to say, "We will buy it, if you do this." They had this opportunity years ago, did they do it? Yes, but at about the price they are charging us now for dryage. We are going to put a price on our own tobacco, by our own executive committee, and say to the buyers, take it at the price we name, or let it alone; and if these bushwhackers, sore heads and half-breeds of Clarksville, who separate themselves from the good people, who are already scowling at them—don't like it, they can lump it, and if they want to go over to the enemy, body and breeches, by violating an honest obligation, let's brand them as the most criminal and base brutes. Let them go with as much joy as they can command, but if they have enough sense not to be made tools of by men, who are too smart to put their names in the paper, and want to prove to the world that they are sincere in their claims that they are true members and friends of the association, they will come up like men, and take their "grub" straight out of the association trough, and by-the-way, we observe, that trough is getting a little more "grub." So if all the time, until we finally expect to see "pie," real "soiree-top pie," in that same trough. It is absurd and silly to talk about auction sales. How long would competition last. About fifteen minutes. There is not enough true members to constitute a corporal's guard that are in favor of any such proposition. He will have the only common-sense, practical plan of selling tobacco, and we are going to stand by our executive committee, and some head, chinkers, confers, and mandarins that will be false, who are dispensed for gain, can shape their course accordingly. They will have to subscribe to all our rules and regulations, edits, ultimatums, and dictums, or have no part or parcel with us, and we will see that they don't slide down our cellar door, and if they don't like that, they can lump it. Every one of them knows that he has the privilege of voting for the best man in his district. Keep out grifters. No sir, they shall not join in with our enemies to rob our people of money. We have a president, chairman of the executive committee, and a board of directors that cannot be bought, bribed, coerced or persuaded into anything, that would betray the people's rights. Thank the Lord for that!

HAPPY WOMEN.

Plenty of Them in Hopkinsville, and Good Reason for It.

Wouldn't any woman be happy, after years of backache suffering, of getting rid of it, of years of unrest, the distress of ordinary troubles. She finds relief and cure. No reason why any Hopkinsville reader

Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. John Coombs of 1226 Virginia street, says: "For a great many years I suffered with a persistent aching across my loins and through my kidneys. At times my back was so bad that I could hardly turn in bed and I could hardly lay on my back at all without placing my hand under it, which seemed to me to relieve the pain. A friend of Mr. Coombs told him about Dr. Dean's Kidney Pills and then he got a box for me at L. A. Johnson & Co.'s drug store. On using them I steadily improved until the disease disappeared. I need not add that I could attend to my household duties without any inconvenience. They did more for me than any medicine I ever used and I gladly recommend them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. We also agents for the United States Remedy. Remember the name—Dean's—and no other.

never cry as do children who are suffering from hunger. Such is the cause of all babies who cry and are treated for sickness, when they are really suffering from hunger. This is caused from their food not being assimilated but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once. Give it a trial.
